DETAILED ACTION

Withdrawal of Finality

1. In light of the action which follows the finality set forth in Paper No. 40 mailed 6-18-03 is withdrawn.

Specification

2. It is noted that the response filed 4-23-03 did not address cancelled claims 2-3, 8, 14-15, and 27 or pending claims 10-12 as originally filed.

Drawings

- 3. The drawings were received on 4-23-01. These drawings are approved.
- 4. It is also noted that the description of Figure 3 on page 5 does not describe Figure 3 as being partly in section or cutaway.

Interpretation of Claim Language

5. The terminology "macroscopic" has not been specifically set forth and therefore is accorded its common, i.e. dictionary, definition, i.e. "large enough to be perceived or examined without instrumentation especially as by the unaided eye". "Absorbent article" and "disposable" are defined as set forth on page 5, lines 18-22. "Semi-solid" is defined as set forth on page 12, lines 24-29. "Effective amount... of a lotion coating" is defined as set forth on page 13, lines 10-15. "Nonuniform" is defined as set forth in the paragraph bridging pages 25-26.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1, 4-7, 9-13, 16-23 and 25-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-29 of U.S. Patent No. 6,118,041. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because since the patent and the instant application have the same effective filing date, the one way In re Vogel test applies, i.e. are the claims of the instant application obvious in view of the patent claims? The answer is yes. Note col. 10, lines 23-30 of the patent. The claims of the instant application are broader with regard to some aspects and narrower with regard to other aspects of the patent claims. With regard to the broader aspects(e.g. application claims an absorbent article rather than a diaper as the patent does, application doesn't require specifics of some of the immobilizing agents as claimed in the patent), once an applicant has received a patent for a species or more specific embodiment, he is not entitled to a patent for the generic or broader invention. This is because the more specific anticipates the broader, i.e. the patented claims anticipate the application claims. See In re Goodman, supra. With regard to the narrower aspects(e.g. the last three lines of claim 1, claims 4-7, claims 16-17 which recite specific ranges of open area), the patent claim 1 discloses "at least a portion of the topsheet outer surface comprising an effective amount of a lotion", i.e. open area is less than 100 % of outer surface. Therefore the general conditions of the application claims are disclosed by the patent claims. "Where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation". In re Allen, 220 F.2d 454, 456, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955). Thus it would not be inventive to find the workable ranges of open area, i.e. the claimed ranges, by routine experimentation.

8. Claims 1, 4-7, 9-13, 16-23 and 26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,426, 444. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because since the patent and the instant application have the same effective filing date, the one way In re Vogel test applies, i.e. are the claims of the instant application obvious in view of the patent claims? The answer is yes. Note. Col. 10, lines 23-30 of the patent. The claims of the instant application are broader with regard to some aspects and narrower with respect to other aspects of the patent claims. With regard to the broader aspects(e.g. patent claims stripes rather than just elements as do the application claims, application doesn't require specifics of some of the immobilizing agents as claimed in the patent), once an applicant has received a patent for a species or more specific embodiment, he is not entitled to a patent for the generic or broader invention. This is because the more specific anticipates the broader, i.e. the patented claims anticipate the application claims. See In re recite a specific range of open area), the patent claim 1 discloses "at least a portion of the topsheet outer surface comprising an effective amount of a lotion", i.e. open area is less than 100 % of outer surface, and spaced stripes. Therefore the general conditions of the application claims are disclosed by the patent claims. "Where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation". In re Allen, 220 F.2d 454, 456, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955). Thus it would not be inventive to find the workable ranges of open area, i.e. the claimed range, by routine experimentation. Note also patent claims 6, 8 and 12-13.

9. Claims 1, 4-7, 9-13, and 16-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-24 of U.S. Patent No. 6,586,652. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because since the patent and the instant application have the same effective filing date, the one way In re Vogel test applies, i.e. are the claims of the instant application obvious in view of the patent claims? comprising a lotion", i.e. open area is less than 100 % of outer surface. Therefore the general conditions of the application claims are disclosed by the patent claims. Common Ownwership

10. Claims 1, 4-7, 9-13 and 16-26 are directed to an invention not patentably distinct from the claims of commonly assigned 6,118,041 & 6,586,652. Specifically, see double patenting rejections supra.

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office normally will not institute an interference between applications or a patent and an application of common ownership (see MPEP § 2302).

Commonly assigned 6,118,041 & 6,586,652, discussed above, would form the basis for a rejection of the noted claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) if the commonly assigned case qualifies as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) and the conflicting inventions were not commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made. In order for the examiner to resolve this issue, the assignee is required under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and 37 CFR 1.78(c) to either show that the conflicting inventions were commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made or to name the prior inventor of the conflicting subject matter. Failure to comply with this requirement will result in a holding of abandonment of the application.

Art Unit: 3761

A showing that the inventions were commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made will preclude a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) based upon the commonly assigned case as a reference under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g), or 35 U.S.C. 102(e) for applications filed on or after November 29, 1999.

Response to Arguments

11. The Applicant's arguments in the Appeal Brief filed 11-18-03 have been considered but are deemed moot. The Duncan and Buchhalter references alone or in combination do not teach the claimed invention because Duncan teaches the preferred embodiment is a hydrophobic topsheet and therefore it would not be obvious to modify the less preferred embodiment of a hydrophilic topsheet to have the claimed open ranges and Buchalter teaches a moisture not temperature activated composition.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The already cited Dunford reference teaches a topsheet which is hydrophobic during use, i.e. water repellant. The Warner reference '345 teaches a composition and/or composition/tissue combination but the reference does not teach an "effective amount to reduce adherence" but rather functions to impart a soft lubricious lotion like feel to the user. The application 10/386,959, Roe et al application '043, has claims which do not claim the topsheet being hydrophilic as required by the claims of the instant application.
